SAVING FOR YOUR FUTURE

The pension plan your employer has set up is not only a valuable employee benefit, it could also be the boost that your retirement needs.

Your retirement

You could spend over 30 years in retirement – that’s nearly as long as most people spend working. And unless you want to spend all that time relying on the State pension, you’ll need another source of income to rely on.

That’s because the State pension is only a safety net to stop people falling into poverty – it’s not enough to pay for your retirement dreams. So you need to think carefully about saving for your future.

And one of the best places to save for your retirement is into a pension – a product designed specifically for retirement planning.

Your plan

Your employer has set up a group personal pension plan to help you save for your retirement. This is a collection of plans set up on a group basis and one of these plans will belong to you. The plan is completely separate from your employer’s business, so if you change jobs you can still save into it.

Your contributions

Your contributions, and the contributions your employer makes on your behalf, are sent to us to invest in your chosen investments. Currently, every time you save into your plan so will the taxman. This is called tax relief and depends on individual circumstances. Although it could change in the future, it helps your savings grow faster. The taxman also lets your savings grow in a very tax efficient way.

Joining

Your employer will let you know when you can join the plan.

Charges

Like all pension providers we charge for managing your plan. This is taken from the retirement savings you’ve built up.

Have a look at your Illustration for details of the charges that apply to your plan.

FLEXIBLE SAVING

We've made saving into your plan as easy and flexible as possible. Once you've agreed how much you're saving into your plan we'll work with your employer to do the rest.

You, your employer and the taxman

When you start saving into your plan, so will your employer and the taxman. These extra contributions will help to boost your retirement savings.

Your employer will set a contribution structure for your plan. This may include a minimum contribution to be eligible to join the plan, or to receive employer contributions.

A contribution example

Let's say you pay basic rate tax and decide to save £100 a month. Your employer agrees to match that, so your £100 quickly becomes £200. And because of tax relief you'll only have to contribute £80 as the taxman will pay the other £20.

The table below illustrates this example for you.

|                            |             |
|----------------------------|-------------|
| You contribute             | £80         |
| Taxman contributes         | £20         |
| Your employer contributes  | £100        |
| Total contributions | £200 |

Talk to your employer to find out more about making contributions into your plan. Remember, the contributions from the taxman depend on individual circumstances and may change in the future. And if you're a higher rate taxpayer you can claim additional tax relief through your self-assessment or by contacting HM Revenue and Customs who will adjust your PAYE code.

If you need help deciding how much to save we have online retirement planning tools that can help with this. You'll find them at yourplan.royallondon.com

Flexible contributions

Your plan has the flexibility to let you increase, decrease, stop and restart your contributions. However, before making any changes to your regular contributions you need to speak to your employer. They'll tell you what changes you can make and when you can make them.

You'll also need to consider what affect changing your contribution level will have on the contributions from your employer and the taxman.

Single contributions

Making single contributions to your plan is a great way to boost your retirement savings. So if you find yourself with spare cash you should think about saving it into your plan.

Transfer payments

If you have retirement savings built up in other pension plans, you can transfer them into this plan. Having all your retirement savings in one place could make it easier for you to keep track of them.

Transfer payments from one pension plan to another don't receive tax relief and are not always in your best interests. You should speak to a financial adviser before you make a decision.

INVESTING YOUR RETIREMENT SAVINGS

No matter what type of investor you are, our award-winning range of investments has something to suit everyone. It caters for the very cautious to the very adventurous and everyone in between. So we're sure you'll find an investment option that you're happy with.

Your options

When deciding how to invest your retirement savings, you have two main options. Your employer, along with their financial adviser, may have set up an investment choice for your plan. Your employer will give you more information about this. You can stick with this option or you can choose your own.

Choosing your own investments

A helping hand

You can choose one of the 'off-the-shelf' solutions from our Governed Range and leave the hard work of managing and reviewing investments to our specialists. Our Governed Range consists of Lifestyle Strategies and Governed Portfolios. These are designed to take account of the time until you retire and the level of risk you are willing to take.

Manage your own investments

If you're confident enough to go it alone, you can create and manage your own investment strategy by choosing from our carefully selected range of funds.

You'll have access to our in-house funds, managed by our asset management division, Royal London Asset Management (RLAM), as well as a range of funds managed by some of the world's leading investment companies.

Finding out more

You can find out more about your investment options in our Pension investment options guide. You can download a copy from yourplan.royallondon.com

If you need help deciding on a suitable investment option speak to a financial adviser.

Reviewing your investments

Our investment experts regularly review all our investments to make sure they're meeting their overall objectives. This gives you peace of mind that your retirement savings are in good hands. This ongoing governance comes at no extra cost to you.

It's also a good idea if you regularly review your investment choice to make sure it's still suitable for you, especially if your circumstances change.

Remember

There are lots of things you need to consider before making any investment decisions, and regardless of the investment path you follow investment returns are never guaranteed.

This means that the value of your investment can go down as well as up and you might not get back the value of the original investment.
